

Collaborative Definition

A team is a group of individuals who work together towards a common goal, leveraging each other's strengths and abilities to achieve a shared objective. It is a collaborative effort where each member contributes their unique skills and expertise, and everyone works towards a common vision. A team is not just a group of people working together; it is a group of people who share mutual trust and respect, and who communicate effectively to achieve their goals. A successful team is one where everyone is committed to the mission, and where there is a strong sense of accountability and responsibility for the team's success. A team can only succeed if there is clear communication, mutual trust and respect, and a shared sense of purpose.

What makes a team successful

1. Clear goals and objectives
2. Effective communication and collaboration
3. Shared values and common purpose
4. Trust and mutual respect among team members
5. Complementary skills and diversity
6. Accountability and responsibility
7. Continuous learning and improvement
8. Recognition and celebration of achievements
9. Adaptability and flexibility in response to change
10. Positive and supportive team culture.

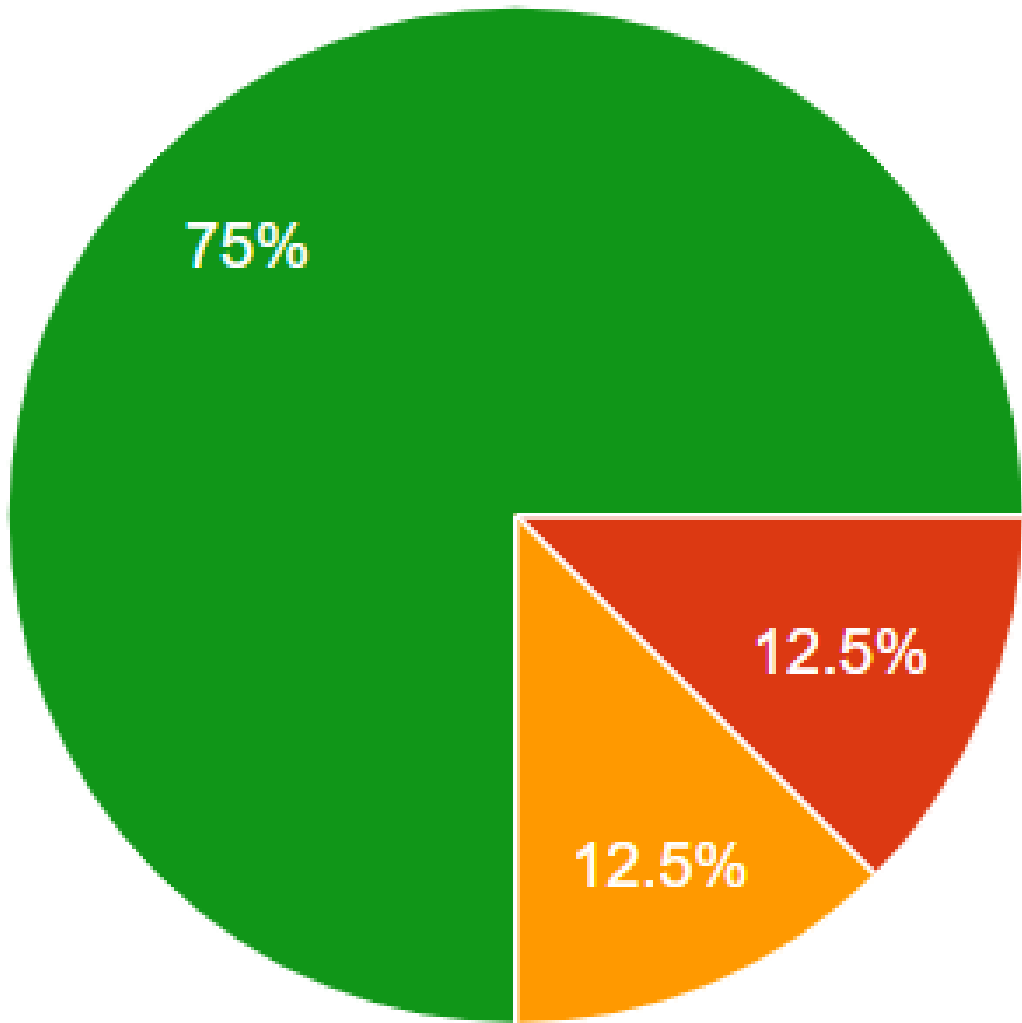

What makes a team Unsuccessful

1. Lack of clear goals and direction
2. Poor communication
3. Absence of trust and respect among team members
4. Lack of accountability
5. Negative working environment due to conflicts or lack of teamwork
6. Failure to work cohesively towards a common goal
7. Missed deadlines and incomplete tasks

How do you think a team's success can be measured?

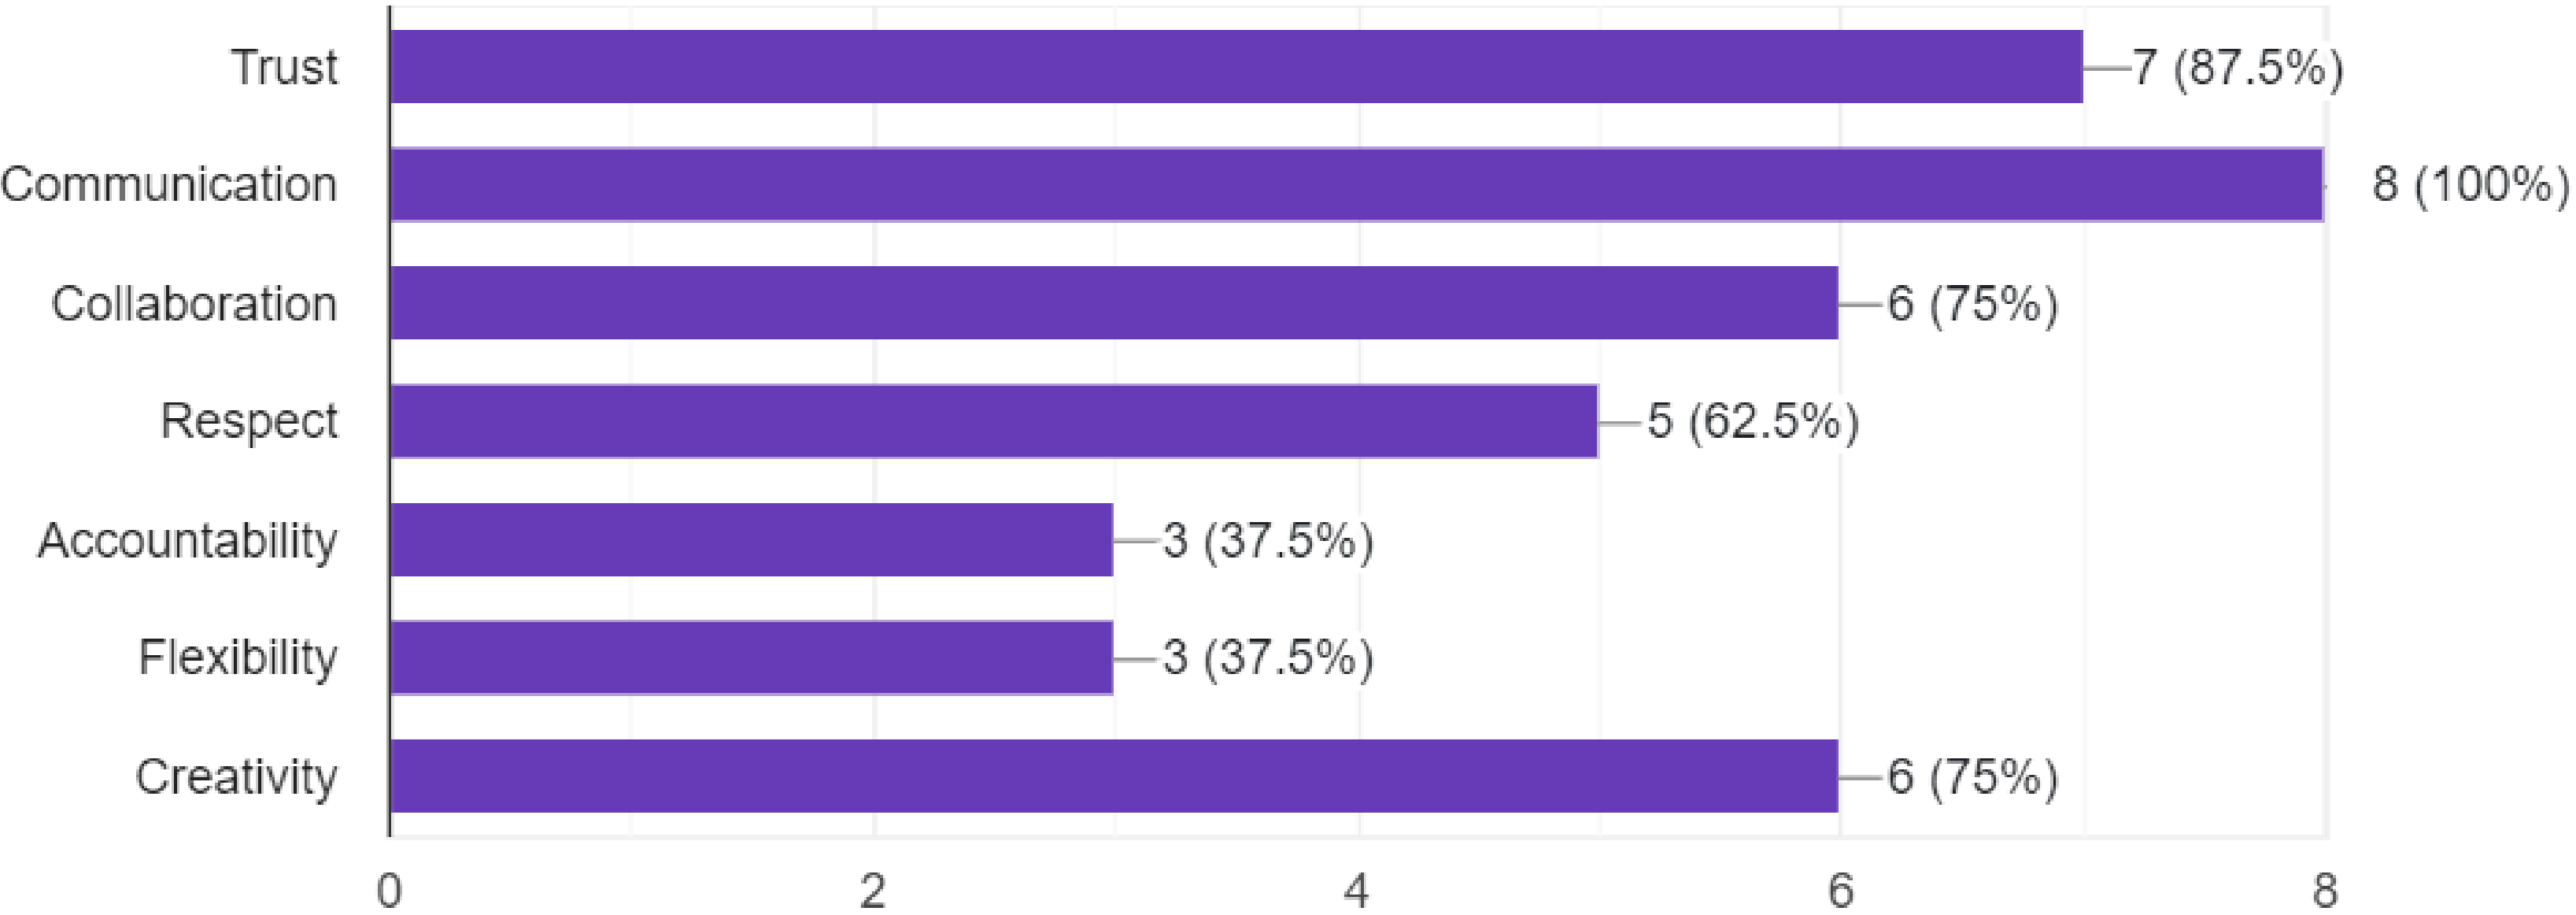

8 responses

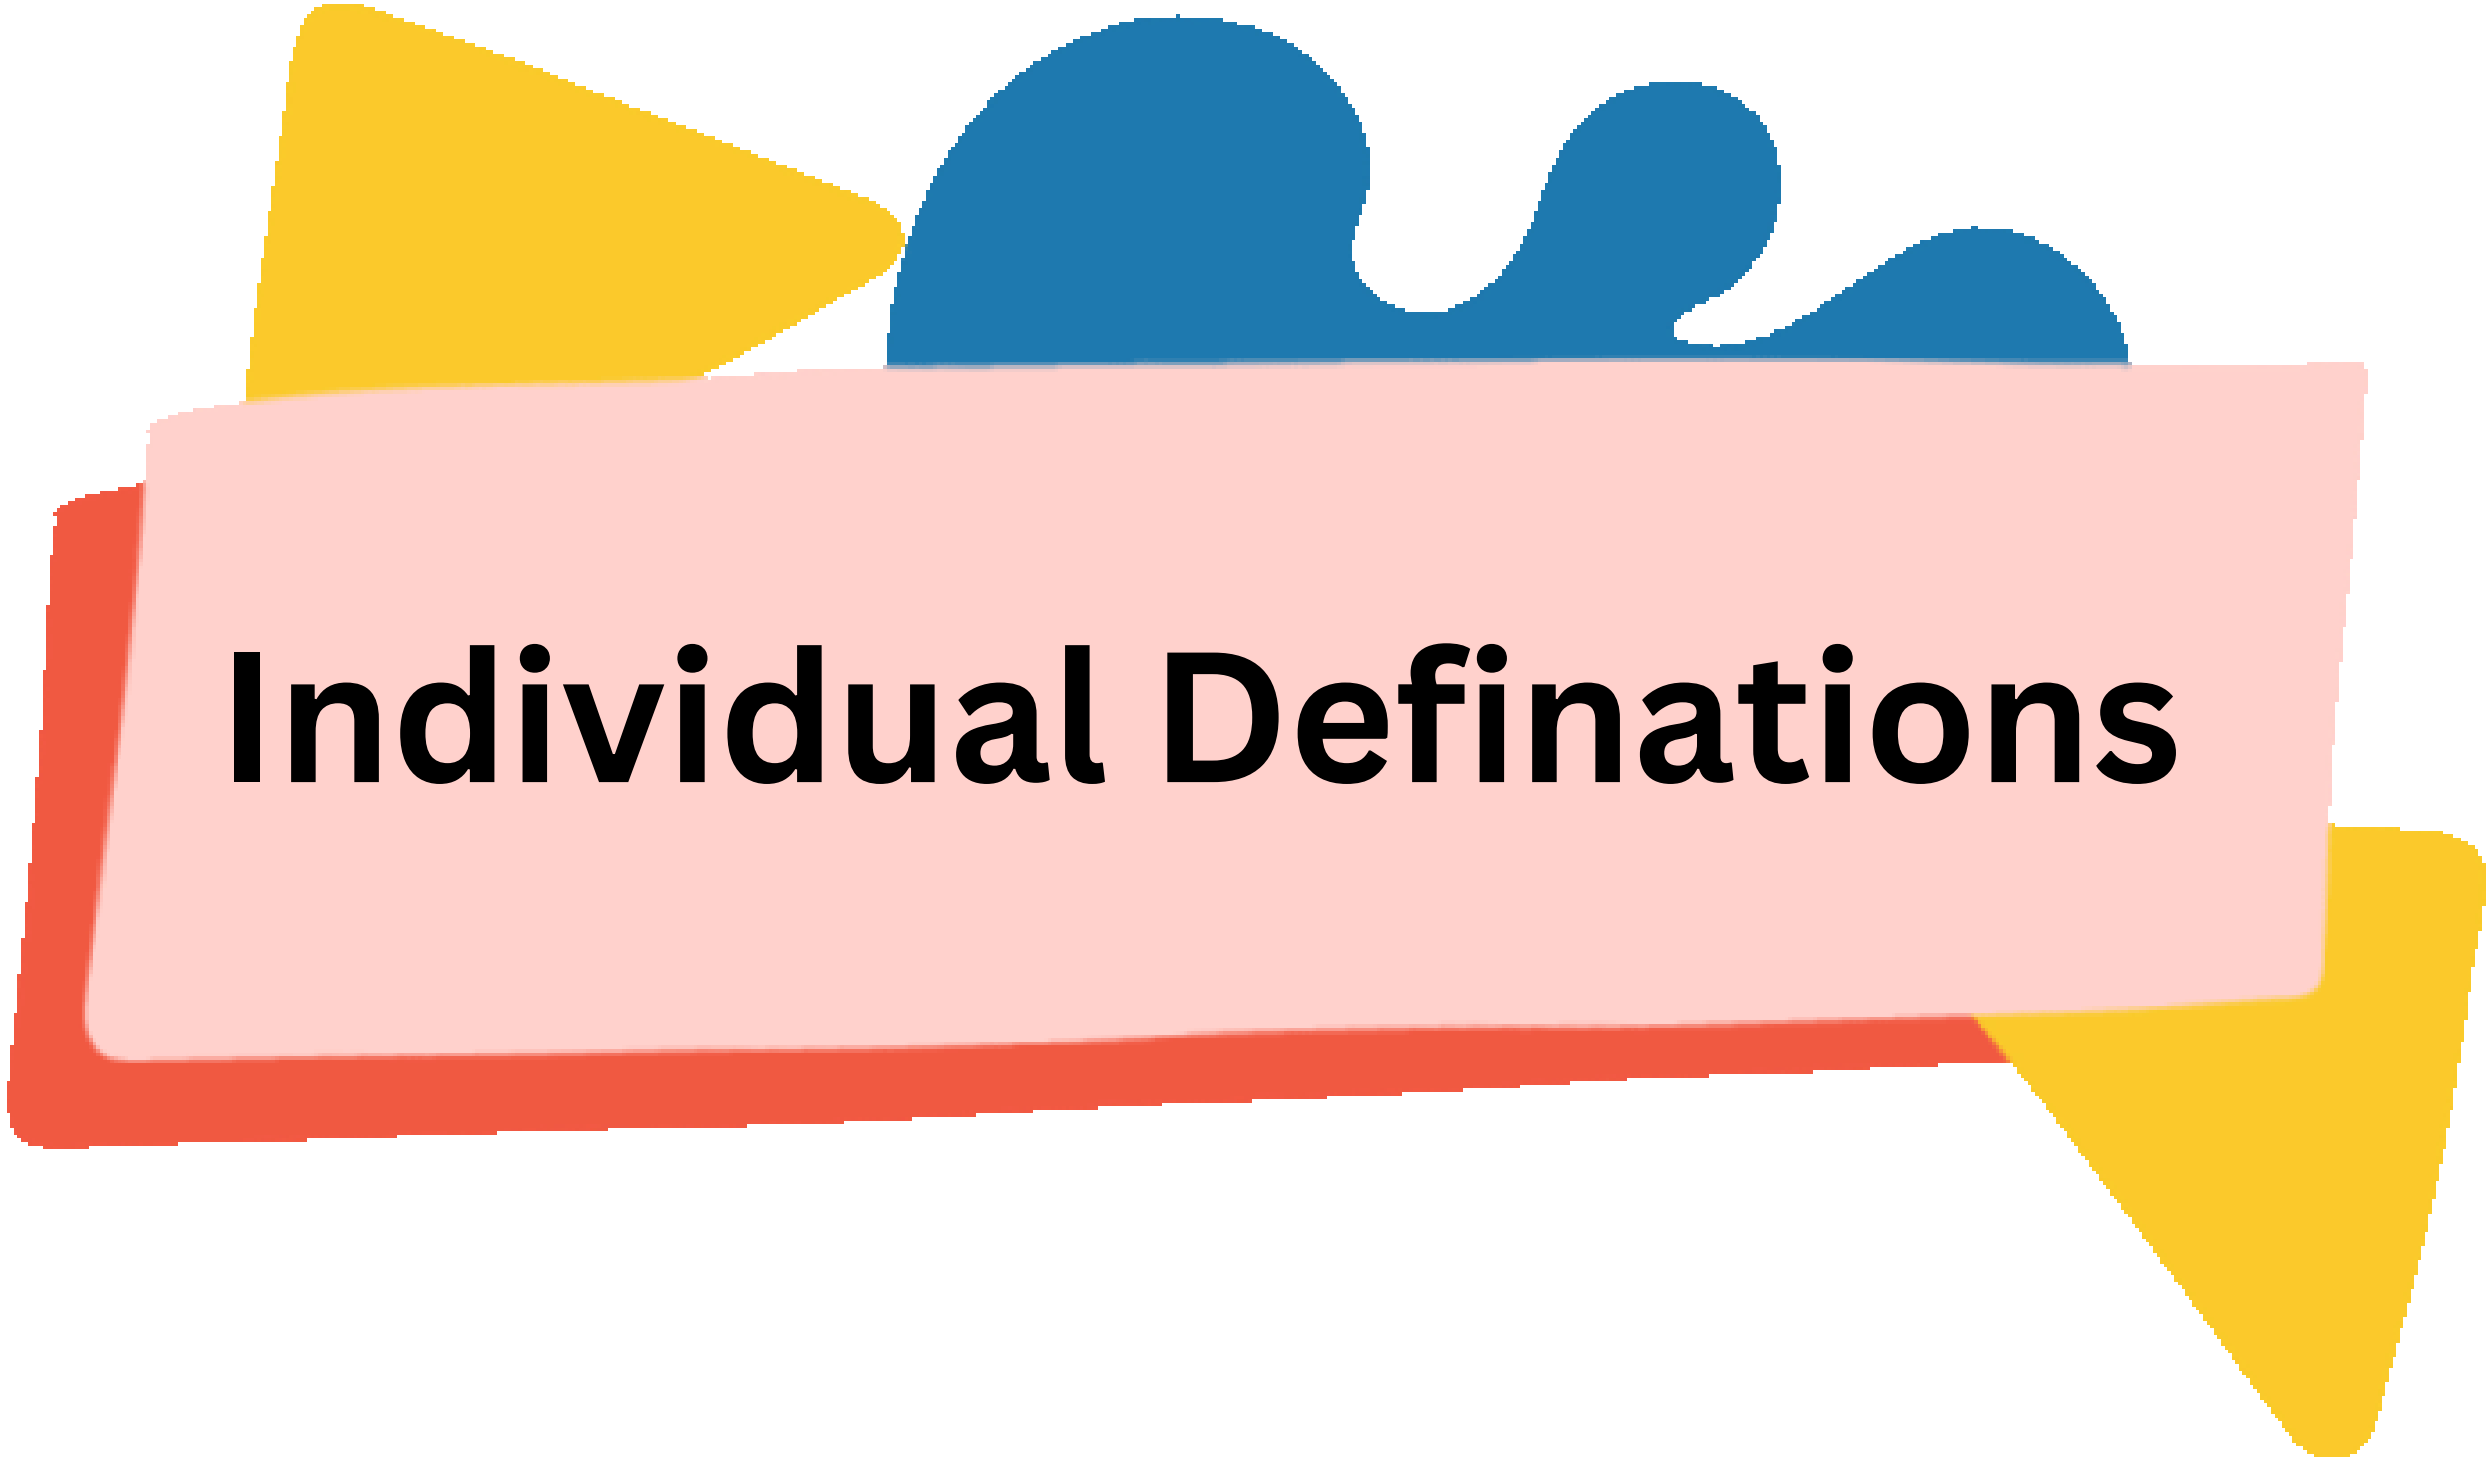

- By the number of tasks completed
- By the level of satisfaction of team members
- By the level of recognition received from others
- By the overall impact made by the team

What qualities do you think are important for a successful team to possess? Please select all that apply.

8 responses

An abstract graphic design featuring a central light pink rectangular box with rounded corners. This box is layered over a red rectangular background. Above the pink box, there are yellow and blue organic shapes. Below the pink box, a yellow shape is visible on the right side.

Individual Definations

Harsh Vyas

What is your personal definition of a "team"?

A team can be defined as a group of individuals working together towards a common goal or objective, where each member brings their unique skills, strengths, and perspectives to contribute to the overall success of the team.

TEAM = Trust + Collaboration - Ego

Part of a successful team? What made it work?

Yes, I have been a part of a successful team before. What made it successful was that everyone had a clear understanding of their roles and responsibilities, good communication and collaboration, and commitment to achieving our goals.

Unsuccessful team experience? Reasons?

Yes, I have been part of an unsuccessful team before due to poor communication, lack of accountability, and a negative working environment. , resulting in incomplete tasks.

Supriya Singh

What is your personal definition of a "team"?

A group of people with different skills and different tasks.

Team = Skills + Tasks

Part of a successful team? What made it work?

Yes. Communication between all. Good leadership. Everyone's effort and contribution.

Unsuccessful team experience? Reasons?

No

What is your personal definition of a "team"?

A team is a group of people or individuals, all working together for a common purpose or working together to achieve a goal.

TEAM = COOPERATIVENESS+INNOVATIVENESS+PROBLEM SOLVING

Part of a successful team? What made it work?

NO

Unsuccessful team experience? Reasons?

NO

Monali Barange

What is your personal definition of a "team"?

The word team itself describes it to the fullest. according to me, A team is a group of different people collaborating to bring the best outcome.

TRUST+COMMON GOALS-DIFFERENCES

Part of a successful team? What made it work?

yes, i have been a part of a team many times in schooling period. the most important thing is team work.

Unsuccessful team experience? Reasons?

yes. it happened when the team leader dominated the team members.

What is your personal definition of a "team"?

- People with different skills working together as single unit.
- where every individual contribute towards the success of the team.
- In a team we should give each other the credit of their work.
- Have transparency among the teammates about work.

TEAM = Enthusiasm + (NoOfMembers * Contribution) - Ego

Part of a successful team? What made it work?

NO

Unsuccessful team experience? Reasons?

Yes, irresponsible nature of the teammates towards work made it unsuccessful. People not delivering their 100%. Taking things lightly. Lack of communication among teammates.

What is your personal definition of a "team"?

Group of people which can perform specific task

Part of a successful team? What made it work?

Trust

Unsuccessful team experience? Reasons?

No communication

What is your personal definition of a "team"?

I think team is a combination of 2 or more people who work together and contribute what they can to achieve a particular goal.

Team = together + goal + good mindset - negativity

Part of a successful team? What made it work?

Yes I have been part of many teams and I think collaboration, understanding each other, giving importance to everyone and working as a single unit helped us to succeed.

Unsuccessful team experience? Reasons?

Yes I have been a part of unsuccessful team sometimes it's about luck also but sometimes the team's behaviour is the reason for failure. I think that not giving importance to some team members and behaving like a single person is doing everything makes the team unsuccessful.

What is your personal definition of a "team"?

A group of people with different skills and different tasks, who work together on a common project, service, or goal.

Team= assistance + synergy - stubbornness

Part of a successful team? What made it work?

Yes i have been a part of successful team before. I think good communication is essential for a successful team. This includes effective listening, open and honest dialogue, and the ability to give and receive feedback. It's also important for team members to understand what they are working towards and how their contributions fit into the bigger picture. Other than that trust is an important foundation for a successful team or community. This includes being reliable, dependable, and trustworthy, and building strong, positive relationships with team members.

Unsuccessful team experience? Reasons?

Yes, for me bad management and unequipped leadership is the basic reason for failure of team. Incentives that enhance a person's standing above and beyond their peers can cause teams to splinter. And one of the biggest elements of cohesion is trust. Team members should naturally feel they can rely on each other to do their jobs well, and to do them with the greater good at heart.